Artists in Action

It's fascinating to see how each painter's artwork and style coincides with his/her personality! Stay creative. It's good for the mind, body and spirit.

What's better than a day-off on a beautiful day? A day alone with your grandson...and bringing him to meet and greet your friends and associates at Bridgeway Pointe!

Landon with his PaPaw, John Hoeffler, our trusted "go-to" man who helps us all with, well... just about everything!

This Month's Resident Spotlight Salutes Janice Kuechenmeister

"Adventure is worthwhile in itself."
- Amelia Earhart

Janice, who is a huge advocate of Cincinnati, grew up close to Findley Market. On Saturdays, she shopped the Market frequently with her mother. When Janice was a teen, her father took her to Lunken Airport for an air show. "That's it," she told her dad, "I want to learn to fly." And she did!

In her early 20s, Janice went to flight school - and her life's passion became flying ever since. She certainly went on adventures, like the cross-country air races she participated in, from the west to east coast. Janice was active in "The Ninety-Nines," an organization of women pilots established to provide mutual support and advancement of aviation. Janice didn't mention this, but we learned that she won awards for her piloting skills. Who knew?! Our residents have led such varied, interesting lives...

Bridgeway Residents: "Making a Difference"

Here's some photos from our recent volunteer community service project, compiling "snack bags" and writing -felt cards for families at the Ronald McDonald House. This wonderful organization provides a supportive "home away from home" for families who have a child being treated at Cincinnati's Children's Hospital...it's a warm, caring place where families stay for an average of about one month. This is just the first of many service projects that we will be doing for them. More soon!

"Laughter is an instant vacation." - author unknown

More Great Life Memories...

The creativity and laughs flowed during our August "improv" and "laugh-fest" event. Laughter has been shown to enhance the body's natural healing abilities and promote well-being. A big plus because there's often laughter ringing in our halls!

"A Taste of Bridgeway" was a Huge Success!

We had a lot of fun at our "taste Testing" event. Thank you, residents, for your quick and honest feedback. The menu items that received a "thumbs up" are already added to the menu, or will be soon!

$$$ "It Pays to Refer!" $$$

Do you know someone who might enjoy living here? Don't forget: residents who refer a family or friend to Bridgeway Pointe receive a one-time discount of $1,000 off a month's rent (and the referred new resident receives the same discount!) See Kris in the front office for specific details.
